Welcome to my portfolio of comic book art!

Since 2004, I've been the artist on self-published work: my webcomic The Guns of Shadow Valley and the 5 issue print series, Scar Tissue, as well as work for small publishers, including: Tell Them Johnny Wadd is Here for Terminal Press, Fiendish Fables for Brain Scan Studios, and M.A.T.T. for PKD Media. During that time I've honed my skills into what you see sampled in this portfolio.

The sequential work is from my webcomic, The Guns of Shadow Valley. I realize that it may not showcase the full diversity of my skills, but I've been focusing my attention on it over the last year—especially since it earned an Eisner Award nomination.

To give you an idea of my versatility, I'm also including some commissioned pieces that I've produced over the last few months. They represent additional sides of my work that may not be readily apparent in the Guns material.

Furthermore, I would be happy to work up a sample if there's a particular genre or character that you're interested in seeing me tackle.

Thanks for looking, I hope to hear from you soon!
